

The Square

The city has the 11th largest area in New Zealand, and the 7th largest population in New Zealand. Palmerston North is the country's seventh largest city and eighth largest urban area. One million people live within a two hour drive. The name of the town was Palmerston in honor of the former Prime Minister Viscount Palmerston of England. The suffix "North" was added in 1871 by the Post Office to distinguish the settlement from Palmerston in the South Island.

About Palmerstone North

Palmerston North is a city located on the North Island of New Zealand.

Palmerston North has a relatively warm climate. It is also about 200km north of the capital, Wellington. The city has a lot of students. It is a city in the center of the

The clock tower of Palmerston North

There is a famous place in Palmerston North it is a square called Plaza Square. The Crowned King of England monument, Teauearia images, and the war dead memorial are there. There's a Women's toilet in Art Deco style, and Maori carvings. The history of the town is reflected here. I'll introduce the clock tower that stands in the center of the square. The Clock Tower is a symbol of Palmerston North, music plays every 15 minutes, the music varies every 30 minutes. And leads you to a fantastic world beautifully lit up at night. It seems to be developed frequently. Crew enters the clock tower often to have a check.

Manawatu Toy Library

Information

The manawatu toy library is located near the square in the center of town. It is managed by a voluntary organisation. It lends Educational toys and equipment. It has a lot of kinds of toys. For example, there are toy cars and Lego, puzzles, slides. The toy library becomes busy when parents and children come on Saturday. It is also environmentally friendly. It is good economically too. However, there is no toy library in Japan. Japanese should
